

Figure 1 is a scatter plot showing the distribution of 100 simulated data points in a 2D space. The points are colored red (BL), green (LB), and blue (LA). The plot shows a clear separation between the three groups, with BL points clustered on the left, LB points on the right, and LA points in the center. The axes are labeled from 0 to 100.

PC1